SPECIAL NOTE: At 1741 on 21 June, Shangri-la entered the Republic of South Viet Nam territorial waters and stood into the harbor of Danang. Vitrally needed parts for the number 3 elevator were received via helo. The ship returned to YANKEE Station the same day. This is an excerpt from Shangri-la's 1970 Command History Report. It is also the only incident known of a U.S. aircraft carrier (CVA, CVAN or CVS) that entered a port area in South Vietnam. It should be noted that this visit was for the purpose of obtaining supply parts and not for liberty.
